

I think it is disgraceful that Sinclair is planning to abuse its public broadcasting rights by airing a blatantly partisan documentary, the anti-Kerry "Stolen Honor", so close to an election. Either they should be made not to show the film or balance it with a similar primetime showing of a film stating an opposite view, such as Michael Moore's "Fahrenheit 9/11". MM has even offered them his documentary free of charge!

There is no place for such one-sided propaganda in a serious democracy.
